

Individual Ceramic Tuition at The Adam Pottery

One to One Sessions for the individual

Work with an experienced ceramic maker in a relaxed friendly environment, and learn how to make your own ceramic creations! Sessions are personalised to suit the individual - without the rigid format of a night class. Ideal as a gift! You will receive expert tuition to guide you through some fascinating ceramic processes. The sessions are for one or two persons, held in the Pottery workspace. Fiona has been exhibiting and teaching ceramics for 15 years, working with complete beginners and those with more experience.

Two hour session

£40 (60 for two people)

Handbuilding and surface decoration: coil building, slab building, painting and printing with coloured slips and applying texture. Pieces will be fired and glazed ready for you to collect at a later date. Popular as a 'taster' session as an introduction to ceramics.

Three hour session

£50 (80 for two people)

Three hours of handbuilding and decorating. This longer session will allow you to either experiment with different processes, or to spend more time on one piece.

For other requirements, including longer or repeat sessions, please get in touch.
